POLICE SHOOT 'BOSTON BILLY'

STOCKS RISE sharply, call loans back at 4 per cent.
The poor bears read that in their late Wall Street editions yesterday. "Leaves have their time to fall, and stars to wane," but that big "drop in the stock market" seems to postpone itself indefinitely.

A man said: "If I had some milk, I would have some mush and milk if I had some mush." If you had the money to buy back stocks, and knew which ones to buy, you might become rich.

New York's Chase National Bank enters the billion-dollar class in honor of its approaching fifth birthday, with forty-two billion dollars of small change to spare.

The 15-year-old National City Bank is the other billion-dollar banking concern. The Chase National has taken $155,000,000 in deposits since March. Evidently somebody has some money.

Lloyd W. Betsand, American air mail pilot, will fly from New York to Rome, a magnificent flight, across the ocean by the southern route, away from fogs, above the "Gates of Hercules" that we call the Straits of Gibraltar, high over the great rock that gave Britain control of the Mediterranean before flying machines and submarines came in.

It will be a glorious flight, above the great island of Sicily, passing Corsica, where Napoleon was born; over Florence, that gave Dante to the world; over Naples and mighty Vesuvius, on to eternal Rome.

Cesar, Alexander and Napoleon looking down from Heaven on that plane from America will be forced to admit, "We were only barbarians, beginners. Now real conquest starts."

And here is another interesting flight plan. Vedjid Bey, pilot to Kemal's Turkish army, intends to fly from Ankara, over Europe and the Atlantic, to New York. That will interest, but not surprise Mohammedans. They believe their Prophet, on his white mare, Alborak, flew up from the holy Kaaba above all the way to the distant stars. The fastest plane on earth could not reach the nearest of them in ten million years. You can imagine what a wonderful mare Alborak must have been.

A serious French scientist, Professor Jolliffe, believes he has "solved the problem of ages," transmitting cheaper metals into gold. Gold is an element, the atoms are little solar systems, each possessing a central proton, with electrons, tiny planets, revolving around it. These atoms are endless, millions of years old. That man can change them, rearrange them, duplicate them, seems doubtful.

First, probably the professor is mistaken.

Second, if it would cost more than the gold is worth, it would be a waste of money.

Third, if gold could be made cheaply it would no longer be valuable. All the gold might disappear, and so far as we know, make no great difference to the human race. If it disappeared, we should be ruined.

Fourteen thousand shares of preferred stock in Cyrus K. Curtis publication company sold yesterday.

'GENTLEMAN RAFFLES' SEIZED IN GUN BATTLE FOR N. Y. GEM HOLDUPS

The spectacular criminal career of "Boston Billy" Williams, gentleman raffles extraordinary, who with his hand engineered jewel robberies totalling more than a million dollars, was ended, for the time being at least, by a detective's bullet today.

"Boston Billy," known as a notorious gunman as well as a raffles and jewel thief, was shot down in a duel with detectives, near New London, Ct.

The crook, who had been sought by the police of the entire country for months past, was shot through the head by a detective's bullet.

Al Smith Declines Invitation to Black Hills

Albany, N. Y., July 7 (A.P.).—Governor Smith will be unable to accept the invitation of South Dakota Democrats to take a vacation in the Black Hills, where President Coolidge is spending the summer.

Replying today to the invitation of the South Dakota Democrats, Governor Smith said he was unable to accept the invitation because he was out of the country.

PASSAGA BACKED BY EDWARDS

Giving full endorsement of the candidacy of General Franklin D. Roosevelt for President of the United States, Governor Smith today declared that he was "backed by the people of the State."

Blind Love Weeps as Law Refuses Right to Wed

Fall River, July 7.—His sightless eyes tear dimmed, Charles F. Silvia, thirty, was led from District Court today by a six-year-old lad, his plea for permission to marry Anna F. Nelson, sixteen, refused for a second time.

Julius Edward F. Healy heard Silvia's petition. The nature of Silvia's story, was not told. The girl is the daughter of a blind man, who has taken his consent.

ALYS MEYER OF BOSTON SUES TO DIVORCE NAVY OFFICER; WED IN 1913

Alice's "Wonderland" is over. Fourteen years of marriage for the former Alys Appleton Meyer of Boston were started toward termination today when she filed suit for divorce in Paris.

The younger daughter of the late Secretary of the Navy, George von Lengerke Meyer, wishes to be freed from Commander P. Rodgers, U. S. N., whom she met at the White House in Washington in 1912.

According to Washington advice, the divorce suit, Mrs. Rodgers, whose wedding in 1913 was one of the high spots of that Spring at the capital, alleges the naval officer with desertion. Both she and her husband are now in Europe.

Although Mrs. Alys Appleton Rodgers has not found opportunity to visit Boston, her native city, for some time, she is well remembered here and along the North Shore.

Her father was a member of the old Boston Common Council, the Massachusetts House of Representatives and the Republican National Committee.

He served as postmaster-general in President Roosevelt's cabinet and as Secretary of the Navy for President Taft. Previously he had been ambassador to Italy and then to Russia.

HAB SOUTH END BOY IN POLICE SLAYING

Acting on a story received from a Charlestown girl, police today took into custody a South End youth for questioning and inspection by the police in connection with the murder of Ferdinand Harris Jr., 30, in Sunday.

While his mother waited in a corner, the suspect, who formerly lived in Charlestown, is said to have visited the home of the Charlestown girl with a claim about two hours after the shooting of Harris.

The girl denied their visit, noting we but after questioning admitted the coming at large.

If this does not suffice, the Mayor is expected to order that the streets be not on beach or muzzled, or otherwise, or that they are removed.

Today one boy was attacked by a dog believed to be mad and was badly bitten. A woman was attacked by two dogs in the yard of her home and a dress she was carrying to the cleaners was torn to shreds.

Meanwhile, the Revere health authorities and the police are searching for a small girl who was last bitten on the arm by a dog at Broadway and Revere streets on Wednesday.

COUPLE FEARED LOST ON MOUNTAIN SAFE

Crawford Notch, N. H., July 7.—Fears for the safety of Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Hussey of New Bedford, N. Y., thought lost on the rocky peak of Mt. Washington, were dispelled today.

The couple was met on the mountain side on their way back to the Willey House camp ground by two fellow climbers descending the mountain who reported the meeting on arrival at camp today.

These two men said the Husseys had told them they were on an alpine hike on the mountain and were due back until tomorrow, but they happened to spend the night on the wooded hill.

During their tramp to the belvedere and back, the Hussey couple were caught in a driving rain storm, they said, but they dried out in the sun and felt none the worse for their wetting and the chill.

Because the automobile of the couple had been standing day after day in the camp without the owner's presence, other campers became alarmed at the prolonged absence and word went around that the missing ones were lost on the mountain.

Hussey is a member of the American Alpine Club and was at the club's hut at the Lakeside Hotel when he and his wife were met by the two men.

200 REVERE DOGS TO BE SHOT; PEOPLE BITTEN

With the city of Revere overrun with sixty dogs that have attacked more than a score of children and adults during the past week, and with deaths from rabies expected almost immediately, Mayor John E. Walsh today took drastic action against the menace.

The riot squad of the Revere Police Department, armed with riot guns, has been ordered to patrol the streets of the city and shoot down the 200 or more unleashed dogs that are causing at large.

If this does not suffice, the Mayor is expected to order that the streets be not on beach or muzzled, or otherwise, or that they are removed.

Today one boy was attacked by a dog believed to be mad and was badly bitten. A woman was attacked by two dogs in the yard of her home and a dress she was carrying to the cleaners was torn to shreds.

BRENT ASSISTS CARNEGIE IN CEREMONY

London, July 7. — In the presence of half the members of the cabinet and most of the fashionable Anglo-American society, friends of London, Miss Mathilde Houghton, daughter of the American ambassador, Alexander B. Houghton, was married this afternoon in Chiswick Abbey.

The wedding was one of the most brilliant society events since the war. Hours before the ceremony was announced by Canon William H. Carnegie huge crowds gathered adjacent to Parliament square to witness the arrival of prominent persons in their limousines for the first American wedding of importance to take place in London's fashionable "marriage church."

CHURCH IS CROWDED.

The church was especially decorated with Easter lilies, blue hydrangeas and roses of laurel. It was packed to the doors with guests.

The bride, who was given away by her father, was radiant in a white satin gown and a court train of rose point lace. She wore a lace veil, fastened across the front with a head dress of rose point lace and orange blossoms. She carried an American style bouquet of gardenias, orchids and lilies of the valley.

Among Houghton, the bride's brother, was best man, Miss Elizabeth Houghton, her sister, was maid of honor.

The bridesmaids were charming frocks of green georgette set off by Leghorn hats. They carried bouquets of wild flowers.

Canon Carnegie was assisted in performing the ceremony by Bishop Brent of western New York.

Miss Mathilde Houghton became the bride today of C. P. Anderson, former private secretary to her father, at a brilliant ceremony in St. Margaret's Church, Westminster, attended by British cabinet members, the diplomatic corps and many other notables.

MOVIE ACTORS WILL FIGHT WAGE CUT

Hollywood, Cal., July 7 (AP).—Seven hundred actors and actresses opposing the greater part of the film players at a mass meeting voted to join the motion picture union of the Actors' Equity Association and drafted a program of striking conditions.

In the speaker's platform were best Torrance, Wallace Berry, Sara Ray, Thomas Meighan, Constance Togo, and Bert Lytell. Nagel, member of the board of directors of the Motion Picture Academy of Arts and Sciences, which recently voted about the postponement of proposed wage cut in the film industry.

The program adopted declared for a strike agreement between actors and producers, standard contract for an eight-hour day.

By vote on the resolution to join Equity and adopt the working man was passed unanimously. It was in charge of the meeting said, "In the event of a strike, we will be in a position to use the powers to be given to us by the producers and actors, state the producers in the choice of us to which he was assigned, and sole for other relationships between producer and player."

On the eighth day, it was held, would create a considerable loss in film studios if enforced. It would create a considerable loss in film studios if enforced.

he meeting was said to have been out of the proposal to slash wages. Actors who attended the meeting said that they were impressed for such a step and that their union, in a large measure, a guarantee against such a proposal made again.

Your poll tax is due. This is the cheerful message sent to 14,470 Boston residents by City Collector Johnson today with the notice that payment is due upon receipt. Along with the bills goes the warning that they must be paid before Sept. 15 or they will be given to the constables to collect with additional charges of interest and service. And, if the constable doesn't collect—well, the law says you can be jailed.

LINER IN RACE 2000 REDMOND WITH DEATH TO SAVE MAN LOSERS FIGHT DIVIDEND

A race with death to land a passenger in a Boston hospital, the decision of a steward because the crew had killed one of the foot and the discovery of a stowaway, were two of the events that marked the voyage of the U. S. shipping board's West Iron that docked at the South Boston Army base today. In addition the ship had on board a food-stored dog from the West African coast, that included animals, birds and many poisonous snakes.

The race to beat out death was due to the critical condition of Henry Lovell, 35, of Colchester, Que., who had been stricken with kidney trouble during his voyage. When several hundred miles off Boston, Captain J. T. Casey witnessed for a boat to meet him and take off the stricken man. Casey's boat CG-311 was sent out, but missed the ship. Captain Casey ordered all aboard until the last hour was reached. At quarantine the sick man was placed on the quarantine boat and rushed to Long Wharf and from there to the Iselin Hospital, where he died later in the day. The West Iron carried 44 crates of animals, birds and snakes in charge of J. L. Burk. Among the snakes were mambas and cobras, both deadly poisonous. Criminals of these Ben Matcote, the stowaway, and himself on board the ship in a bar, and was discovered while at sea. He was turned over to the immigration officials for deportation to France.

$2000 THEFT IN WATERTOWN

While a policeman directed into the 100 yards away, burglars even sacked the Watertown home of Mrs. Helen M. Nelson, widow of Fred L. Nelson, superintendent of Thompson's Gas, broke open a safe and escaped with $2,000 in jewelry and $75 cash.

The Nelson home, at No. 259 School street, was unguarded for only three hours of the afternoon, but in those hours of Mrs. Nelson's absence the burglars combed the interior as thoroughly as if they had had all day in which to work. Because of their inability to find fingerprints on the safe or other articles, police believe the burglars were gloves.

Entrance to the house was gained through invading a rear window, but the burglars huddled by the front door, carrying their loot in a suitcase, also stolen in the house.

AR PASSENGER SERVICE

YEARS OF PATIENT RESEARCH NEEDED FIRST, HE WARNS

By BERT ACOSTA.
Pilot of Commander Byrd's plane, the transoceanic flight.
(Cabled to the Boston Evening American.)

CHAPTER 4.
PARIS, July 7.—When I am asked what I regard as the outstanding lesson of our flight, I am bound to say that it is not an encouraging one.

After forty-two hours of travel in all kinds of weather, I am forced to the conclusion that transatlantic passenger service is merely a dream that cannot become a reality for a long time.

Perhaps, if we had had fair weather all the way I should think differently about it, but my present impression is that it will take years to surmount successfully the meteorological obstacles standing in the way of anything like a regular Atlantic plane service.

Three flights from one continent to the other this summer have demonstrated that the mechanical obstacles have been overcome. We have planes that will do the job. We have engines that are absolutely dependable for forty hours of continuous flying and we have men with sufficient skill and powers of endurance to pilot the planes from New York to Europe, but we have not yet reached the point in aviation where we can rely on the weather.

Of course some kind of service could be run but not on a commercial basis. At best it would be a very irregular service and at that would only be possible in the very best months of the year.

This service, such as it is, might be made available to persons whose business or personal needs require them to be reached from one continent to the other.

I know there are many persons who would take the risk. The flight of Lindbergh and Chamberlin stimulated an enormous public interest in transatlantic flying. It seemed to spring up almost overnight. When before we left Roosevelt Field persons came out with $2,500 or $10,000 in their hands.

beginning us to take them as passengers. Before the first Atlantic flight was made these same persons would never have wanted to fly, even around New York, without keeping a close watch on the weather.

This explained interest in flying is all to the good, and should lead to the extensive development of commercial flying on the American continent, where it can be carried on, on a business basis, and with reasonable regularity and safety for the passengers, as well as the freight.

SERVICE OVER

Air Over the Ocean Will Be Full of Airplanes

By International News Service.
EIGHT non-stop transatlantic flights, both from the American and European continents, were in sight today as the fliers, five men and three women, announced plans for the perilous crossing. They are:

Charles A. Levine, who hopes to obtain a French pilot to fly his monoplane Columbia back from Europe.

Lieutenant Paul Tarascon, who plans to fly in the near future from Paris to Chicago.

Rene Fonck, who is preparing for a non-stop flight from New York to Paris.

Mrs. Grace McCellan, of Austin, Tex., who is making ready for a flight over the route taken by Colonel Charles Lindbergh.

Mrs. Gladys Byrd, who with Lieutenant Delmar L. Byrd, is also an entry in the New York-to-Rome race.

Thea Rasche, German girl stunt flier, who plans a "solo" flight across the ocean.

Another German, Udet, who hopes to complete the long crossing some time this summer.

adventure in the America. Other flights of similar character will be made in the future, always I hope with the principal object of obtaining Atlantic weather data—winds, rain, and snow—different altitudes and in different zones.

For my part I would not at the present stage of ocean flying set my eyes on a prize as high as $25,000. There is too much high flying in the air to be done and the prize would be unduly high.

My endurance flight with Chamberlin lasted 11 hours and eleven minutes and the strain was nothing less than a heavy one that we suffered during our forty-two hours between New York and France.

Nevertheless it is the fact of human endurance that pushes the possibility of regular transatlantic flying into the distant future, but a lack of dependable weather charts.

the visit and gave the name of the South End youth.

The Greater Boston youths were in the city in Dorchester, C. W. on suspicion that the automobile in which they were riding was stolen.

According to the police of Dorchester, which is on the motor highway between this city and New York, the two youths talked of the murder, being involved in the brutal

The automobile was registered in the name of a Cambridge automobile repair concern at Dorchester authorities. The Cambridge police, who in turn informed Chief Inspector John C. Armstrong of Boston.

Captain Hurley of Cambridge took the youths lived the car from a drive-in establishment in Mt. Auburn street at midnight, saying they did not intend to leave the vicinity and making arrangements to return it Friday night.

A South Boston youth, frequenter of the West End and under suspicion of a part in a recent hold-up there, was hunted today as the leading suspect in the investigation by Inspector Joseph Cavanaugh, homicide, and other investigators.

One of the pair who took part in the holding up in hiding in the West End, in the opinion of the authorities. Search in that vicinity was preceded by a mysterious note taken by Cavanaugh and Special Officer Bonner of the Charlestown station, who would not divulge details of the case.

LAST SEEN SUNDAY.
Because of the clever manner in which the two youths dodged pursuers after their crime, one of them is believed to be a resident of Charlestown and search is going on in that vicinity for the younger of the killers, while the older is hunted in the West End.

This suspect is believed to have robbed a West End man last Thursday night, before the Charlestown killing. He was last seen by a Cambridge street druggist a short time after the hold-up was shot to death, having been absent from his usual haunts since that time.

He is twenty-five years old and has a police record. A Cambridge street lunch room clerk told the investigators that he was in the restaurant at noon Sunday but has not appeared since, while the druggist identified a picture of him as that of a youth who made a purchase there Sunday afternoon.

REWARD OFFERED.
A committee of prominent Charlestown men planned to confer with Mayor Nichols today with a request that he ask the City Council to appropriate a sum of money, as large as possible, to provide a reward for information that will lead to the capture of the murderers.

Information came to the police of a Stonewell man who was said to be harboring two youthful offenders for the last few days and they made a hurried trip to investigate.

Medical Examiner Macrelli is not yet satisfied with facts placed in the investigation of the mysterious death of Mr. Katherine Bailey Lindbergh in a West End hotel where she was employed.

Police are now doubtful that her death was caused by the slavers of the policeman, as at first supposed. Two men answering the description of the slayers applied for a room at a hotel where she was murdered the night of the murder of Patrolman Macrelli.

ABANDONS FLIGHT FROM HAWAII TO CALIFORNIA.
HAWAII, July 7 (U.S.A.).—The "hard luck" flight of "Broken Bird" Dickie Green, film stunt flier, from Hawaii to California, has been given up at last. Lieutenant Eaton II, Hawaiian manager of the project, made known today that Green had decided to take off for California. Three a punctured tire halted him on the fourth attempt he wrecked his plane. Green will be an entrant in the $25,000 Dole flight from the mainland to Hawaii, beginning on August 12, Roger said.

PARADES TO EUROPE: 2 PUT PLANES IN SERVICE

New York, July 7 (A.P.).—An aerial parade across the Atlantic loomed as a possibility today with the announcement of plans for five non-stop flights from New York to Europe.

Inured by the achievements of Lindbergh, Chamberlin and Byrd, the new expeditions disclosed today the plan for flights to Paris, to Rome and to an unnamed destination in Europe in planes ranging in size from Lindbergh's little Spirit of St. Louis to propeller planes carrying the giant America of Commander Byrd.

Veteran aviators, stunt fliers, two of them women, and a designer of a yet to be built steam-driven biplane, were named as members of the expeditions. The summer of 1927 was announced for as early as next month and as late as next year.

FRENCH WAR ACE.
FRENCH in the developing air passenger are Captain Rene Fonck, French war ace, preparing for a flight to Paris, and Lloyd W. Berdall, who will pilot and depend on Charles A. Levine as co-pilot on the flight of the Columbia.

Columbia, who is planning a 2,800-mile ride to Rome.

Other entries are Miss Gladys Byrd, stunt flier and parachute jumper, who will fly to Rome, and Delmar L. Byrd, and Orintha Brothman, Jersey City flight instructor. Commander Chicago minister, who hopes to reach Europe in a giant steam-driven biplane.

Mrs. Grace McCellan, dare-devil aviatrix, plans to fly to Paris as soon as she can get a plane, and Mrs. Gladys Byrd, stunt flier, plans to fly to Rome, and Orintha Brothman, Jersey City flight instructor.

Frightened Boy in Drifting Boat 'Leaps to Death'

New Bedford, July 7 (A.P.).—Terror stricken when set adrift in a drift with his two brothers and another boy by two lads on shore, Stanislas Romanowski, Jr., nine, jumped overboard when the Archipel River was drowned. A police boat picked up the drifting rowboat and took the rest of its frightened crew ashore.

Two boys, whose names police have not yet learned, unfathomed the line by which the boat in which the boys were playing was moored to shore.

Winchester, July 7 (A.P.).—The farm buildings of Thomas McCarty were destroyed today by a fire originating in the milk shed, which, entailing $22,000 damage. Two horses were burned, but $9 cows were saved.

Paris, July 7 (U.S.A.).—Clarence Chamberlin today finally denied a rumor sent to the United States stating or intimating there has been a break in his relations with Charles A. Levine. Chamberlin's financial backers, who accompanied him on the non-stop flight from New York to Germany.

"Mr. Levine asked me to fly the Columbia on a return trip," Chamberlin said. "I agreed to do so. That certainly shows there has been no rift between us."

Asked who was the French pilot Levine has chosen for the westward flight, Chamberlin said he did not know.

FLOGGED WOMAN SAYS HOODED MEN BEAT HER

Toccoa, Ga., July 7 (A.P.)—A flogged woman, who was dragged from her home by a mob of hooded men, today told a jury in a court here that she was forced to face them and was beaten and robbed.

Her testimony was offered in the trial of W. G. Arce, principal of the Stephens County High School and superintendent of a hospital here, who is charged with the murder of Mrs. Arce.

"They came for me in three automobiles about 2 o'clock in the morning," the witness testified, "and gave me time to slip on a kimono, stockings and shoes before forcing me into an automobile. My boy was taken in another machine."

"They drove about eight miles to the country. When we got out I wanted to know why they had come for me—what I had done."

"Without replying the men took me from one of the automobiles and forced me across a holding my hand between his knees."

"I had four whiplashes. They questioned me about how I got my support. I told them Mr. Bowers allowed me so much for my son (said her husband) have been married for two years and that I loved him. They whipped me twice again and wanted to know if I would give them. Then one of the men told me 'if we have to do this again we're going to burn a 'K' in your back.'"

"They wanted to know why I didn't go to church."

"Who said that?" Solicitor-General Robert McMillan, heading the prosecution, asked.

"Mr. Arce," the witness replied.

Mrs. Bowers said after her husband's death she had been told by a man who had been with her mother from the attack, was killed and whipped. The two were then left to make their way home.

GIBSON HOPES FOR PEACE AT NAVY PARLEY

Geneva, July 7 (I.S.S.)—With the American, British and Japanese delegations rigidly maintaining their point of view on the warmly contested question of cruiser tonnage, the deadlock in the three-power naval conference persisted today.

Leaders of all three delegations, however, indicated that they expect eventually to reach an agreement.

"We are still looking for a way to compromise on the cruiser issue," said H. H. Gibson, head of the American delegation. "It is a hard nut to crack but we have not yet given up hope."

The American delegation was heartened by the support of Japan, which has lined up squarely with the United States in opposition to the British and American cruiser strength.

Admiral Viscount Monro, British representative, said they will absolutely refuse to accept the British proposal of 600,000 cruiser tonnage.

Even America's compromise proposal of 400,000 tons. The Japanese strongly favor the proposition made by the United States at the opening of the conference—250,000 tons for cruisers and 100,000 for destroyers.

Governor Square One of Hub's Biggest Problems

ALL BOSTONIAN UNITS IN PLEA FOR SOLUTION
This photo illustrates a common sight during rush hours at Governor square, a spot motorists, pedestrians and "El" employees dread. It is one of the most difficult traffic problems Boston experts have to struggle with and many suggestions to relieve congestion at this point have been offered. None have been found practical. During rush hours six or more traffic officers are on duty there, but still there is congestion.

PERFECT FOOT AWARD TONIGHT

"Miss New England of the Perfect Feet" will be crowned tonight.

Aimed at the glory of one of the greatest shoe shows in New England tradition, the winner of the Boston Evening American's Perfect Foot Contest will be proclaimed the proud possessor of the most beautiful feet in all six States.

The contest was the envy of the other thousands who had entered the contest.

Death was said after she had fallen exhausted her fifteen-year-old child, who had been taken to a hospital by her mother from the attack, was killed and whipped. The two were then left to make their way home.

Besides the crown, "Miss New England" will be given a gold medal and a purse of $100. Also, her perfect feet will be perfectly fitted with a beautiful pair of kid-like shoes as the famous designers, I. Miller & Son, only fashion.

The queen's four nearest competitors will also be fitted with beautiful shoes and given purses of gold. Two of them will be awarded silver and bronze medals.

Twenty other pairs of finest kid-like shoes, by the same famous designers, will be distributed through Hovey & Company to the other 50 finalists who survived yesterday's eliminations.

Sixty other ten entrants will share in the special prizes, not to be announced of their silk hosiery given by the Gotham Silk Hosiery Company. A beautiful pair of Gray Pointers hose will be given to "Miss New England" and 21 of her sisters.

PLYMOUTH YOUTH ENTERS WEST POINT FROM ARMY
Special to the Boston Evening American

Washington, July 7.—Beginning his career as an enlisted soldier, Edward J. Cotto, No. 24 Clinton street, Plymouth, Mass., is to have his chance some day to take the job now held by General Pershing. EDWARDS BACKS GEN. PASSAGA

The French military leader in Springfield.

"I personally endorse every action General Passaga has and will take with him in America," declared General Edwards at a luncheon given General Passaga at the University Club by Governor Fuller.

It was the American general's only reference to the unpleasant situation existing in the mid-western part of the State over the seven decorations to be made of her veterans of the T. D. next week General Passaga, but General Edwards' manner of speaking indicated that he was somewhat vexed over the snubbing given the decorations.

General Edwards reminded that in making awards for valor, it was necessary for the French government first to secure consent of the American command.

OTHER SPEAKERS.
Other speakers at the luncheon included the Rev. Fr. George S. J. Connor of Westfield, a TD chaplain, introduced by General Edwards as "the man who covered more Yankee blood than any other man in France"; Brigadier-General Charles H. Cole; General Edward L. Logan; Major-General Preston Brown; and Admiral Andrews of the First Naval District.

Throughout the city today, the war acclamations shown General Passaga melted away perceptibly the city of Springfield's welcome.

General Passaga, accompanied by his aide, Capt. Gustav Gacon; Brigadier-General Alfred F. Poole, state commissioner of public safety; Col. Paul J. Norton, commander of the 14th Infantry; M. N. G. and Joseph C. J. Namant, commander of the 14th Infantry, motored from Springfield and went tonight to call on Governor Fuller.

After greetings by the Governor, the party went through the thronged corridor to where Philip Andrews' 14th Infantry column, depicting General Passaga's decorating of the 14th Infantry column at Apremont in April, 1918, hangs.

VIEWS MEMORIAL.
Following the brief, informal ceremony before the mural and the presentation of photographs to the Governor, the General and those accompanying him, the party went to the 14th Infantry column at Apremont in April, 1918, hangs.

General Passaga expressed himself in the relief and by the expression of the colored soldiers depicted. While the crowd, almost reaching Beacon street, cheered and applauded his progress, the General, who had taken back to the State House for a visit at American Legion headquarters.

AT MRS. GARDNER'S PALACE.
A visit to Cardinal O'Connor and then on to Mrs. Jack Gardner's palace, the party went to the 14th Infantry column at Apremont in April, 1918, hangs.

General Passaga's program for the day, the luncheon given General Passaga at the University Club by Governor Fuller, at the University Club, TD Club, presided over by Gen. Ed. FIRE DESTROYS AUTO PARKED IN STREET

A flaming automobile on Codman street, Dorchester, gave residents in the section an exciting hour early today and brought out several companies with fire apparatus.

Firemen controlled their effort on preventing an explosion of gasoline in the tank of the car.

The machine, owned by John A. Stevens, of No. 275 Codman street, had been parked in front of the residence. As Stevens was retiring, he observed the light in the street and discovered the machine was in flames. The auto was a total loss.

A short circuit is supposed to have been the cause of the fire. The damage was estimated at $375.

STANDARD OIL CO. OF NEW YORK, 26 Broadway

SAYS SHE'S NO 'BACKWOODS CLEOPATRA'

Bangor, Me., July 7.—Mrs. Lotie M. Archer, whom her husband charged has lived the life of a backwoods Cleopatra, today denied through her counsel allegations that she has had seven sweethearts during the last 10 years. Archer is a brother of Gleason Archer, dean of Suffolk Law School, Boston.

The defense opened with a long denial of every charge made against the comely matron and against the stand as a defense witness.

William J. Wright of Oldtown, one of the seven men named by Archer, testified that he had not in Bangor, the town where the Archers then lived, during September, 1915.

Q—How long have you known Mrs. Archer?
A—Ever since she was a little girl.

Q—Were you in Bangor in September, 1917?
A—No. I went there in July after my wife died. I took my little baby to Mrs. Archer and asked her to care for it. The baby was two months old.

Cecil Albright, who testified for Archer, was called as a defense witness. He was again asked to describe the affair in which he said Alton Savage and Mrs. Archer occupied adjoining rooms during her husband's absence from home.

He testified Savage visited the house early in the morning and Mrs. Archer admitted him. At that time, Albright was lodging in the Archer home. Mrs. Archer took Savage to the bedroom adjoining her own and he left there the next day, according to the testimony.

"When Archer took the stand he was subjected to a rigid cross-examination on the manner in which he procured evidence against his wife. At one point counsel for Mrs. Archer asked 'Does it not seem to you that he was not in the so-called evidence?' Archer denied this."

FOR WORKING ON GIANT AIR CRUISERS TO SPAN OCEAN

BACKS MITCHELL'S PLEA FOR FIGHTING AIR FORCE

Following is the second installment of an interview with Henry Ford, in which the auto magnate discusses the future of aviation, politics and the business situation.

By WILLIAM K. HUTCHINSON.

Detroit, July 7.—(By International News Service.)—The giant air cruiser, capable of carrying 100 passengers each, will be spanning the Atlantic in no distant day, Henry Ford predicted today in declaring America has entered the flying age.

The world's richest man came out with a strong endorsement of Colonel William Mitchell's plea for a fighting air force to protect the United States from foreign aggression.

"The large airplane in the ship of the future," said the auto king, "is going to be the flying car and the young crowd coming in now wants to go up in the air."

"What should America do to be prepared in the air for the future war?" he was asked.

"Work on aviation," he replied promptly. "I think aviation is coming as fast as it can in a commercial sense. I have a lot of faith in the commercial development of aviation before the national defense is being thought of. The Government should come along."

SUPPORTS MITCHELL.

"This airplane ever replace the battleship, as Colonel Mitchell says?"

"There is no question about it. The airplane, very simple, 'All-planes can destroy anything pertaining in war. Aviation, I believe, has started another cycle. Mitchell is right."

"War in the air will end all war."

land, Buffalo and Grand Rapids, Mich. The Ford plane, he said, "maintains a schedule of 1,125 air miles a day, six days a week."

PRaises BIG PLANES

"What will the plane of the future be like?" he was asked.

"The large multi-motored plane is the plane of the future," said Ford. "They will be of great size, carry many motors and hold a hundred passengers. These large planes will come because they can be more easily operated."

"The present machine is four-fifths man-operated. The operator must be on the job every second. Too much depends on the man. I think this ratio can be reversed by building larger ships, with more motors and less dependence on the human equation."

"If multi-motored planes are perfected, they will increase the safety factor and make flying a comparatively safe land travel."

"If one or two engines break down, the plane is in a position to glide to a safe landing. Or perhaps, they can be repaired while the plane is flying. There will be virtually no crashes as now occur when motors fail in single-engine planes."

Ford's own interest is centered in the multi-motored plane. The experiments conducted under his supervision at the Ford airport have produced the new-fashioned, multi-motored Ford air cruisers. The experiments will continue along this line until a 100-passenger liner is produced.

100-PASSENGER PLANE

"Nothing interests me very much in aviation aside from the large planes," said Ford.

"How soon will you produce a hundred-passenger plane?" "I can't say," he replied. "But we are working on it now."

"I don't tell how soon, but we are on the way to it."

Aviation will create a new field of transportation, Ford concluded, and will not destroy other modes.

"Will airplanes ever kill off automobiles?" he was asked.

"Never," Ford answered. "A new system never drives the old one out. We will have horse-drawn street

MORE RAIN DUE FOR HUB

The predicted rain wave from the West, due to storm the mercury here today, kept past New England into Canada through the night leaving only a matted shower to mark its passage.

For the morning thirty-six hours according to the official forecast, temperatures will hover under a mark of 80 above and more rain is expected tonight from the Canadian disturbances.

Forecast for Boston and vicinity: Partly cloudy, probably with showers tonight (Friday) fair, but much change in temperatures; fresh westerly winds.

BROTHER DROWNED

Gordon Abbott, 8, of Glen Road, Weston, who was saved by his brother, Shirley, 14, who drowned in making the rescue in Weston Pond.

'MILL' DOCTORS SPLIT $40,000

New Haven, Conn. July 7 (A.P.)—At least forty to fifty thousand dollars was divided "on a tip-of-the-hat" basis between Dean Waldo Briggs of the St. Louis College of Physicians and Surgeons and Dr. Robert Adcox as a result of the activities of the latter in securing students for the institution. Dr. Adcox testified today at the hearing of the appeals of seven electric deities against the revocation of their licenses in Connecticut.

Besides his duties in getting up deities and procuring for them, will out examination certificates from county superintendents of education in Missouri, Illinois and Indiana and from State Examiner William P. Sachs of Missouri, Adcox also received the current rate of diploma of the St. Louis College and the Pacific Medical College of Los Angeles.

Man Crushed to Death

Essexboro, July 7 (A.P.)—Kenneth Adams, 25, died at his home in Essexboro today from injuries received when he was crushed between a crane and a freight car at the Ken's Car & Manufacturing Company's plant here.

PAYS TRIBUTE TO CARDINAL

The Very Rev. Francis J. Kelly, S. J., superior of the Jesuit fathers in charge of the Catholic missions in the British West Indies, with headquarters at Jamaica, has been invited to pay an official visit to the Very Rev. James M. Kilroy, S. J., provincial of the Jesuits of the New England Province.

Fr. Kelly is a Chestnut boy, attended the Boston public schools in that district and graduated from Boston College with the Class of 1900. While here he will spend a good deal of his time at the home of his sister Mrs. William F. Burns of Somerville, wife of Adcox's business partner.

In an interview given at the rectory of St. Mary's Church, North End today, Fr. Kelly paid high tribute to Cardinal O'Connell, characterizing the head of the Boston archdiocese as "The Cardinal of the Mission."

"For our missions there we have to depend more on the assistance of the laity and his Eminence's Cardinal O'Connell, who might be called the Cardinal of the Missions because of the interest he takes in all the missions, he has been a special friend and patron of the Jamaica missions."

DYING PARENTS SEEK LOST SOUTH BOSTON SON

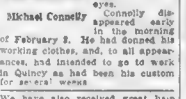

Two lives depend upon the early discovery of the whereabouts of Michael Connelly, 27, who has been missing from his South Boston home since February 2. His dying parents in Jamaica, Ireland, have been making frantic pleas to the police to send him back to their dying bedside that they might see him once more before a fatal end.

Connelly disappeared early in the morning of February 2. He had donated his working clothes, and, to all appearances, he intended to go to work in Quincy as had been his custom for several years.

We have also received great help and encouragement from Mr. McGinley, diocesan director of the Society for the Propagation of the Faith, as well as many Catholics of the Boston diocese.

Fr. Kelly leaves Boston for New York Monday and will sail from there to Jamaica Wednesday.

Good jobs do not wait the street—shirts are listed in the classified columns of the Boston American. See Help Wanted, (Classification 50 and 52).

Rose Show to Be Held at the Henry H. Fay Estate, Woods Hole, a Week from Today; Henry L. Higginson Holds Garden Party at South Lincoln

ROSES WILL BE BLOOMING IN ALL THEIR PRISTINE and fragrance at the Henry H. Fay estate in Woods Hole on Sunday, July 11, to benefit the Children's Hospital. "Nesbitt" is one of the region's delightful, well-known places, with its own table tennis and a very tall and old and well-kept lawn. To supplement the garden party, a bridge and picnic will be given for the benefit of the hospital.

MRS. AND MRS. HENRY LEE HIGGINSON'S GARDEN PARTY at their home in South Lincoln on Sunday, July 11, will be a most successful one. Mrs. Higginson has a very beautiful garden, and the party will be a most successful one. The party will be a most successful one.

THE HOUSE DONE OVER FROM ORIGINAL FARM HOUSE is a modern, handsome structure of many rooms and broad veranda. It has been done over from a farm house, and is a most successful one. The party will be a most successful one.

ONE OF ITS TREASURES IS THE OIL PORTRAIT DONE OF Henry Higgins, a 2d, by his mother, who is the painter, a famous artist. The portrait is a most successful one. The party will be a most successful one.

THE "ALEX" HIGGINSONS HAVE BEEN ON A FISHING TRIP to a favorite Cornish stream and did not arrive at South Lincoln until the 1st day of the party. The party will be a most successful one.

MRS. R. NASON HAMILTON SALES AWAY FOR A SUMMER to the Laconia from Boston on Sunday next. She goes with the pleasant group of Mrs. Nathaniel Bowditch, a famous artist. The party will be a most successful one.

A SUMMER AT "HOLMIST": THE HEAVENLY, SARGENT ESTABLISHMENT in Boston, with sales to New York and fashionable summer resorts. The party will be a most successful one.

Story of Love and Intrigue, Girl Who Kept Her Head and a Tiger Woman

Rich and socially powerful Lady Melreth is engaged to Eddie Wadden, a boyish employe of tea dance resorts, in a plan destined to be a divorce, and indubitably his credit to the limit, feeling his financial problems will be solved, once he gains his ends. Jill Wisden, Eddie's half-sister, is an idealist and when he compares his rather scheming conduct with her high standards, he becomes ashamed, but determines to "carry on" just the same.

Jill finds new lodgings in London, her stepmother having sold the furniture in her room at the Wisden flat. Eddie announces his engagement to his sister, but withholds his fiancée's name. Jill returns the money she had borrowed for a railroad fare from Lord Melreth, his form simply sends to end their friendship. Eddie Wisden terminates his employment at Ponsard's, while his sister seeks work there.

Sharkey Sets Out With Not a Worry Has Proper Idea

Fans Still Plenty Good Boston Team Will Make Million

By Nick Flatley

SMART MR. SHARKEY LETS OTHER FELLOW FRET

J. SHARKEY departed from these parts today in search of the golden fleeces. If he can win a fight two weeks from tonight, he will be, in all likelihood, the next champion of the world and the newest millionaire on the Massachusetts Income Tax list.

All that immediately in front should worry a young man who was wondering not so many years ago, where the next flock of groceries might come from. He should be full of serious thought and great resolves. Ninety-nine out of a hundred scrappers would be fretting themselves silly. Not J. Sharkey.

He's the exception, and his happy-go-lucky disposition is one of his great assets. He does not lose away any vitality fighting his fights in imagination before they happen. He has a Nick Flatley philosophy all his own.

"Sure, I think I can fight," he admits. "If I didn't I wouldn't be in there. I have been picking up stuff about boxing for three or four years, and I feel more confident each time I get in the ring."

"Dempsey was a great fighter, but he wasn't great with Tunney. I know he can hit, and hurt, but that's part of the game. I'll yell my head off if I step on a pin at home, but when I get one that strings in the ring, that's different. It's my business, and I just have to make up my mind not to let it happen again."

"I think I can lick Jack. What a clown I'd be to fight him, if I was afraid I was going to get it, and only hoping for a miracle. I've taken some real socks from regular hitters, and they never tipped me over when I was in shape."

"I'm that way now, better than ever, so why should I worry about getting hit. And I think I can smack a bit myself."

"Tunney? Wait till the Dempsey one is out of the way. At a time is enough to think about. If I don't win from Jack, there'll be no Tunney fight. If I do, there'll be plenty of time to get ready for Gene."

"Say, the car is in great shape for this trip to New York. J. Sharkey today was thinking much more about his engine and the scenery than he was of his million dollar battle. Which isn't a bad idea for him, any way you look at it."

SHARKEY WILL BE JUST AS MUCH SURPRISED AS YOU ARE TO READ SOME OF THE FUNNY QUOTES ATTRIBUTED TO HIM IN THE NEXT PORTFOLIO.

PLENTY OF BOSTON FANS; GIVE 'EM A TEAM

THE impression is easily gathered in Boston that baseball enthusiasm isn't what it used to be; that golf and automobiles and other things have lapped the keen edge of fanaticism. Which is all wrong, as can be discovered by a trip out of the city proper.

The fan is still the fan, serious about baseball and admiring the big leaguers just as much as he did twenty years ago. He is still the fan, serious about baseball and admiring the big leaguers just as much as he did twenty years ago. Hakoo's Final Game

They Keep Their Popularity!

Brands of cigars come and go.

Public taste changes — cigar quality changes — sometimes the character of a business changes.

But PIPPINS is the oldest cigar brand in New England, in fact the oldest in the country. The quality has never fallen below the original standard, in fact it has been improved.

And our seventy-five years in business continuously under the same family management has guaranteed the character of our cigars.

What does it mean when one brand of cigars—PIPPINS—grows in popularity year after year—from one generation to another?

It means that our policy of making a FULL SIZE Londres at 7c meets with public approval.

That PIPPINS are wrapped in a supreme grade of Sumatra tobacco—and the smokers like it.

That PIPPINS are all long filler, clean, mild, fragrant. Never any dust or scraps.

And that PIPPINS at 7c each represent the biggest cigar value that can be obtained.

Try and picture—we ask you—a PIPPINS smoker being asked to substitute something else!

Your cigar dealer is a good merchant. He likes to sell you WHAT you want WHEN you want it. And when he hands you a pack of five or ten PIPPINS he's as pleased as YOU are because he knows you get BIG VALUE.

RUNYON Says—

Mr. Shade Testifies

SARATOGA, N. Y., July 7. (AP.)—Mr. Shade testified today in the trial of the late John D. Rockefeller Jr. that he had been in the room with the late John D. Rockefeller Jr. at the time of the shooting.

"Mister, I've been punched by experts in my time, but you can announce for David Shade that he was never before punched as hard as he was by this Dempsey person. Say, he but a little short dab in the old bread basket that you probably couldn't notice from the ringside, and I thought he had caved me in."

"I boxed with him out in California a few weeks ago not long after he started training, and he hit me on the back of the neck so hard that I can feel it yet. I'd like to know how you who look on from outside the ropes get the idea that he isn't punching. I wish some of you would get in there and sample a few of those pokes, then you could write with authority, if you were ever able to write again at all."

Whereupon Mr. David Shade went bobbing-hobnobbing along in his belt and out of the courtroom.

"I've boxed with Jimmie Maloney and he never was able to hurt me much. But this Dempsey-whore, he is someone else again," Jim Runyon testified. "You may state in your publication that I, Jim Runyon, say the runner is a coward. He hit me so hard, I could taste it. He hit me in the stomach with little-seaved-off pokes that spoiled my appetite. I fear he will kill the terrible shadowy man, which will be a bad thing for boxing, as killing is against the law."

Runyon's testimony was met with a burst of laughter from the audience.

LOEW'S STATE
Massachusetts Avenue

4. Federal action to the limit of Federal Government powers to abolish illiteracy among the people of the United States, and the creation of a Secretary of Education.
5. Necessary measures to secure the election of Congress in November and its installation on the 1st of January following, and the inauguration of a President on the 1st of January immediately following his election in November.

O H, who am I to fret about the day's small cares and aches when sun is boldly shining out, Rose pods and robins sing? And should I alone go bent beneath a load of care? The meadowbrook laughs, well-content; the finch trills debonair. The whole earth bears a gay and happy air. I have flown away from napping roses at my feet and daisies' marble eyes? Ah, man
